THE CLIMAX OF RACING AT LONG BRANCH. PLAING YOUNGSTERS TO MEET IN THE JUNIOR-

KINGSTON AND FIRENZI. The track at Monmouth Park is now dry and fast.
With clear weather to-day—which is now likely—one of the biggest crowds that ever entered the gates will see one of the best favor to the party of see one of the best day's racing ever given by this liberal, energetic and enterprising association. The fight for the great Junior Champion Stakes, worth more than $20,000 with $10,000 of added money, will be a lively one. It will have a field of more than a dozen of the choicest two-year-olds of the country, pick of all the American stables with the exception of French Park, who was not entered. Of the probable starters named in the list below, Kasson, able starters named in the list below, Rasson Verdeur, The Belle, Eric, and Ransom may be dis-missed at once as not having shown sufficient form at any time to justify hope of their getting even a place in such a fast lot. Reperter is good in a heavy track but can hardly go the pace which will be set to-day dry track. Diable is not at his best and has no chance except on his very top-notch of achieve-I don't have so much faith in Tipstaff as son do and consider h m outclassed. Nor can I accept the Western wonder Proctor Knott. We all saw what the Western wonder Egmont did on Thursday, and the Proctor Knott people were always lond braggarts. setting aside those named, we have Mr. Haggin's two colts, Salvator and Fresno, Mr. Withers's pair, the Cyclone and Favordale colts, the Dwyer Brothers' gon and Mr. Belmont's Lady Margaret. In my or inion the wiener will come from these six. Salvator has never raced but has done fast work in private, or inion the wiener will come from these six. Saivator has never raced but has done fast work in private, while Fresno, whose one appearance in public was a failure, has beaten Saivator in a very fast trial. But private work may not after all defeat public form. Oregon proved himself almost French Park's equal at Brooklyn and has now regained his spring form. He should get a place to-day, but it seems to me that the winner will ceme from Mr. Withers's pair. Both have shown high speed and high form in public. The Duyers have won the Junior Champion for two years. It is another stable's turn how. Mr. Withers has two stout strings to his bow and he should win with the preferred one, with Oregon second, although Lady Margaret must be marked dangerous. The Tribune has said repeatedly that Kingston would represent the Dwyer Stable in the Champion Stakes against Firenzi. Many other papers have said that Sir Dixon would run, not Kingston. The Tribune was correct. Sir Dixon is not at Monmouth Park and Kingston will run. But Kingston was never a very high-class racehorse at a mile and a half, doing his best work at distances below a mile and a quarter. After Firenzi's great race against The Bard in record time, she ought to we not champion to a certainty, while Kingston should get the place casily enough from Connemara and Santalene.

Little Minch should win the first race, Cambyses

Favor ought to be first in the third race, Cambyses Beacon Stakes may go to Arctino, King Idle The Beacon Stakes may go to Arctino, King Idle second.

The beokmakers at Monmouth, who stick to their trade and do not speculate wildly on some fancy of their own, are stuffing their pockets with immense masses of big b.lls, while the backers of horses, the general betting public that is, see starvation staring them in the face. The variations of form in July and August the syear have been far more startling and puzzling than ever before at Monmouth. Unless matters go better for the backers there will be no one left with money enough to attend the autumn meetings of the Jockey Clubs. And yet in splie of the glaring fact that the public are heavy losers and the non-speculative bookmakers are huge winers by these bewildering variations of public form, some of the penelliers are so brazen faced as to assert that it is now a losing business; that the public are too smart for them. What goose-food such stuff is: Defore they began bookmaking, how many of the bookmakers had $1,000 in the world? Now party of them revel and first in riches. And they remain in the trade which fills their pockets with wealth. If it were a losing business, why should they stay in it?

FINISHING FOURTH BUT PLACED FIRST. A REMARKABLE DECISION IN A RACE AT SARA-TOGA.

Saratoga, Aug. 10 (Special).—Once in a while the race-going public is startled by a queer decision, but it is safe to say that the one rendered to-day in the third race eclipses all others, and should go recorded in red letters for the edification of generations to come. Indeed, it was so gross a blunder that one could hardly realize that it d.: so gross a bunder that one could harmy realize that it di-sciumly occur. Age may be, perhaps, some excuse for Mr. Surget and Colonel Owen, but it could not be for Escretary McIntyre, who was in the judges' stand. To all but the judges it was plain that Elmira won, that Bronzemarte was second and that Eessio June was third, and the efficials committed a great wrong in giving the race to Pasha, who was no better than fourth. Of course and the officials committed a great wrong in giving the race to Pasha, who was no better than fourth. Of course those was much indicatation expressed, but at no place except Soratoga would the crowd have been so orderly under the circumstance. Beyond this error there was nothing to disturb the equanimity of the spectators, for under in disturb the equanimity of the spectators, for the racing was good, if not sensational, and as but the favorite was successful backers had a hard time of it and the ring reaped another harvest. Tessa K, won the opening race through the admirable riding of Barnes, who had the mount on Elmira in the third race. King Crab was a great favorite for the three-tourits dash, and with Melaughin up won handsomely. The fourth race tettanated with one of the great surprises for which this meeting has became noted. In their each so to I manning away from the big field. There were no accidents in the steeplechase, which was a soling affair; but the only oges sold were those who backed the favorite, Becchinare, who was casely besten by Will Davis. The weather was clear and controlled the surprise of turingen and others to might, tent upon witnessing the struggles for the two Champion Stakes at Monagaun to-morrow.

They were off in close order and well bunched on passing the stand. As they went to the quarter Pasha ran forward and took a lead of a length from Elyton and continued this to the half, when Brahronarie ran into second power. The race down the stretch was a fine one. Elmira coming next to the tails with a grand rush reached home a good head in front of Brourowarte, a head before Ressie June, who was a next before Pasha. The judges did not appear to Know who had from. A first Bessie June's number was put uj, which was received with derision, and after floundering about they finally decided that Pasha had won, giving the place to Bessie June and awarding Elmira third place, after having given it to Brouromarte. MR. CASSATT HEARS OF THE BARD'S TROUBLE. A. J. Cassatt, who has just returned in the steamer City of New-York from a visit to England and the continent of Europe, looking the model of health and vigor, was seen by a Tribune reporter yesterday. Speaking of the English turf he said: "I am unable to offer any opinion that would be worth quoting for the reason that I saw only two races all the while that I was out of this country. namely, the Derby and the Grand Prize of Paris. I see racing enough here and wanted a holiday. With regard to The Bard, I can see nothing for it but retiring him to the stud, assuming, of course, that he does not stand training again. It is rather a hard blow, but I am sorrier on the great horse's account than on my own. However, I suppose it is only one of the inevitable mishaps incidental to thoroughbred training and may be taken as the result of racing on hard ground."

London, Aug. 10.—At the Lewes summer meeting to-day the race for the Asiley Stakes, for two-year-olds, was won by Lord Culthorpe's chestnut filly Seashell by a neck, with A. Taylor's bay celt Lancashire Lad second, three lengths in front of R. H. Combe's black filly Unco Guid third. Napoleon was the favorite at 9 to 4 on. The betting on the others was as follows: 10 to 1 against Seashell, 6 to 1, against Lancashire Lad, 20 to 1 against

UNTIL THE SUBWAYS ARE COMPLETED. A sub-committee of the Electrical Subway Board, composed of Commissioners Gibbens and Moss, met yesterday morning at No. 1,218 Broadway to consider the methods of improving the electric street service of the city. Representatives of the Prush, East River, Harlem and Mount Morris Electric Light Companies, the Safety Electric Light and Power Company, the Ball Company and others were present. The meeting was devoted to discussion of methods for a better and more uniform system of conducting the wires in the streets until the subways are completed. No conclusions were reached and the meeting was adjourned until Tuesday at 11 o'clock. Commissione

Gibbins said to a Tribune reporter after the meeting: "What we want is to obtain some method of carry "What we want is to obtain some method of carrying the wires through the streets until the sulways are completed which will give a better service to the city and to the companies than they now have. We want to fix it so that there shall be but one set of poles in a street, instead of three or four as is now often the case, and also to secure a uniform method of attaching the wires, so that there shall be the best results and the least danger. If the companies will unlie in this way, it will enable them all to compete with one another, and they will all be served, and at the same time the city will receive the most good.

THE TERROR COMES UP FOR COMPLETION. The double-turreted fronciad Terror, one, of the five heavily armored monitors now being completed by the Navy Department, arrived here yesterday from Philadelphia. Department, arrived between the Cramp & Sons, on March 3, This vessel was begun by cramp a sons, on starch at 1873, and would have been completed ten years ago if the Democratic House of Representatives had not so ob-stinately refused to honor the requisitions of previous Secretaries of the Navy for money to finish her. The consequence is that she has been cared for by the Cramps fifteen years and twenty four days, at an expense to the Government of $55,000 for berthage and preservation. The Terror is of the low freeboard type, and her system of currents is the same as that originally adopted by Cap-tain Ericsson for the first monitors, at a time when propetiles were light in weight and were discharged with comparatively little power. It is estimated that she will comparatively little power. It is estimated that she will develop a maximum speed of twelve knots, and will have cost, when this shed, exclusive of her armament, $530,000. She is completed with the exception of her armament, and when this is provided she will be made ready for sea

THE HOME TEAM SCORES TWO TO ITS OPPONENT'S

ONE-RECORDS OF THE CLUBS. Dame Portune has not been unkind to the Giants of late, but she certainly showered her favors upon the heads of the local baseball players yesterday. New-York team has, of course, been playing a spleadid game, but then as Manager Mutrie always howled bad luck" when his team met a string of defeats, he will probably acknowledge that his bad luck has fled. The second game at the Polo Grounds yester-day, between the New-York and Pittsburg clubs, resulted in a victory for the home nine after an exceedingly well-played and interesting contest. Fielding errors were made on both sides, but none of the blunders were damaging. Scaley pitched a capital game, except to the sixth inning, when his momentary wildness gave the local club the victory. The Pittsburg nine carned a run in the opening inning, and that was the only run it made during the game, Nearly 4,000 people were present and the liveliest interest was felt in the game. Some uncasiness was felt when it was seen that Ewing was not to catch, but Brown filled Ewing's place behind the bat credit ably, except that his throwing to the bases was wofully weak. Keefe pitched his nineteenth straight victory, and did excellent work, but two baschits being made against him in the last eight innings. The local players did not make a baselit in the two innings when they scored their two runs. Connor made a phenomenal one-hand caich in the seventh inning of a line hit by Dunlap, jumping high into the air and accomplishing a double play unassisted.

The Pittsburg men scored a run in the first inning and took the lead. Sunday led off with a hit to left field. Miller also hit safely, but to right field, sending Sunday to third and taking second himself on the throw in. Sunday scored on Beckley's out at first, Keefe striking out Danlap and Coleman. In the second inning Conner led off with a three-base hit, but could not score. Staley had pitched with telling effect up to the sixth inning, when he seemed to lose control of the ball, and his wildness was responsible for the two runs made by the local players. In this ning Ward and Richardson were easily disposed of. Staley foolishly sent Tiernan to first base on called balls, and the play proved a fatal one. Connor also went to first on called balls. Staley made a wild pitch and Tiernan ran to third and Connor to second. Staley then pitched the ball far out of his catcher's reach, and both Tiernan and Connor scored. runs were made and the game resulted as follows: New York, | r. 16 | no a. r. | Pittaburg. | r. | 16 no.a. |c.

COLLISTON OF A YACHT AND A SCHOONER. Commodore A. F. Baieman's steam yacht Meteor arrived off Bay Ridge by way of Long Island Sound yesterday morning in a badly damaged condition Her foremast was carried away close to the deck, her meintopmast was broken short off, the port side of her smokestack had been damaged by a blow, and her port side forward was scraped and scratched for a distance of fifteen fett. Soon after midnight the Meteor, on her way to New-York, was in collision with a schooner that was bound in the opposite direction. An hour later the tug Herald spoke the schooler Ada Ames, which reported that she had been in collision with an unknown steam yacht off Penfield Feef. She had lost some of her fore rigging and her jibboom.

STILL HOPING TO ESCAPE THE NOOSE. " Danny" Lyons had a long talk yesterday with T. J.

Sullivan, one of his counsel, and he afterward announced his conviction that he would not get a noise around his neck before next spring, at any rate. He does not find the subject of hanging an agreeable topic, however, and made no inquiries regarding the execution at St. Louis yesterday. His counsel asserts positively that his appeal to the Su-preme Court must operate as a stay, and declares, moreover, that the Recorder had no authority to re-sentence Lyons last June. The argument on these points will be heard by Judge Patierson at 10:30 Menday morning.

MR. GARRETT'S MIND UNSETTLED

HIS PHYSICIAN WILL NOT SPEAK DEFINITELY

ABOUT HIS MALADY. It was admitted yesterday by one who is closely connected with Robert Garrett that the former railroad president is really insane. Though the admission was made with the qualification that the stories printed during the last few days were somewhat exaggerated, the physician who has charge of the case-refused yesterday to state positively what was the nature of Mr. Garrett's affliction. He declined also to make any other admission than that Mr. Garrett's mind was unsettled, thus helping to con firm the truth of the story .. There seems the slightest doubt in the minds of his friends that

Mr. Garrett is mentally a wreck. Being asked to state definitely what was really the matter with the patient, Dr. Partridge said: " All will say that Mr. Garrett is cat ng well, sleeping well, and is generally improving."

" Is Mr. Garrett's condition such that it is necessary to have attendants constantly watching him-is he under restraint, in fact?"

"Mrs. Garrett is there, and the nurse, and his valet." "Then he is practically being guarded?"

"Well, you could not put that construction upon it. He is only guarded so far as any sick person is, for fear he might get up out of bed or do anything else that sick people are apt to do when suffering mentally. The attendants are there to administer to his wants." "Would you think it advisable to allow callers to see him?

"It would not be advisable to let all persons who called see him-because it is better that he should be kept quiet. Mr. Mayer saw him and had some conversat on with him, but no others."

"Will you give a written opinion on the case?"
"That reminds me of the physician who called on a patient and was asked to hand a bottle from the elf, the invalid remark ug, 'I want to ask you a question on it.' The doctor replied: 'I am only your bulletin doctor, madam, and you would better ask the physician who prescribed that medicine the question.' No, I shall not give out any builtins." "In regard to the statement that Mr. Garrett's mind wanders and that he talks about Jay Gould and the absorption of the Baltimore and Ohio Telegraph Company by the Western Union, have you ever heard

Mr. Garrett say anything?" "Mr. Garrett has talked about Jay Gould, and many other business men. I know he has not the best of feeling for Jay Gould, but all I know about it is that Mr. Garrett eats with sleeps well and is doing well. If I were to go into the history of the case from the beginning I could say much more, but I am only giving the condition of the patient from day to day. He is taking less morphine than when I first took charge of the case and that is a sign of improvement. All that is needed now for Mr. Garrett is rest from business and other cares."

Secretary Crane went to listituore vesterday and seer tary Guy was acting for him. Like everybody else connected with the case all he could say was that the stories about Mr. Garrett's insanity were much exagerated. Like the doctor none of those in attendance on Mr. Garrett will state what the trouble is, if it is not insanity. Mr. Garrett has talked about Jay Gould, and is, if it is not insanity.

He makes this last change of domictle, which he believes to be final, in the interest of his family, but believes to be final, in the interest of his family, but wherever he may reside he wants his old army and war comrades to know that they especially shall be more than welcome. He will not emback on the troubled sea of politics or accept any civil office whatsoever; but live out the short remainder of his life as best he can, with charity for all, with malice to none, excretising the great American right to think freely and speak his thoughts when he piecases. He is on the point of starting for Washington as one of the pall bearers at General Sheridan's funeral, and will be in Ohlo for army reunions most of September.
